DETAILED ACTION

Request for Continued Examination (RCE)

The RCE filed on October 31, 2007 has been processed. A non-final action follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 5-16, 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kaminsky (2002/0082967) in view of Lutnick (6,850,907).

Kaminsky discloses the invention substantially as claimed; however, Kaminsky does not disclose a price discovery module that enables individual trades to be executed based on one of a best RFQ response and an improvement to a best RFQ response, wherein the system makes at least one dealer response available to the second user and allows the second user to improve the best RFQ response to execute the trade based thereon as a principal. Lutnick teaches a method and corresponding system for automated price improvement of trades between parties comprising a price discovery module that enables individual trades to be executed, wherein the system makes at least one response available to the second user and allows the second user to improve response to execute the trade based thereon (col.7, line 50 to col.8, line 37 and col.16, line 40 to col.18, line 48). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teachings of Lutnick within Kaminsky for the motivation of providing for the optimal trade to take place.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3, 5-16, 18-19 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
